Franke Launches Professional Capsule System

Franke is entering the capsule market with the launching of two capsule machines under the brand "K-fee PROFESSIONAL SYSTEM". As a result, Franke is offering the complete range of commercial machines from one source. The capsule machines C200 and C250 were developed specifically for commercial use in collaboration with the capsule expert Krüger. They ensure optimum beverage quality and variety at the push of a button.

Franke Coffee Systems has found a strong partner with K-fee System GmbH, a subsidiary of the KRÜGER Group, with comprehensive experience in manufacturing beverage products and capsule solutions. With the capsule system K-fee PROFESSIONAL SYSTEM developed in collaboration, Franke is entering the professional B2B capsule market. The innovative multi-beverage system combines cutting-edge technology with stylish design and provides a very varied selection of beverage specialties in barista quality.

Tasteful and varied

The capsule machines C200 and C250 have been designed specifically for professional use and are appealing thanks to their simple operation. The integrated, completely automatic cleaning system ensures perfect hygiene and minimum work. The capsules used are larger than comparable products on the market and enable preparation of beverages in restaurant quality. The C250 is also equipped with the multiple award-winning Franke milk froth system Foammaster and provides constant and perfect milk froth quality. At the push of a button, great-tasting coffee and milk classics such as cappuccino and latte macchiato are produced as well as enticing hot chocolates and teas.

System platform for entering the capsule business

To ensure that the partners of Franke can also profit from the innovative concept K-fee PROFESSIONAL SYSTEM, the two partners have developed a unique "open system". This innovation makes it possible for partners to fill their own brand or coffee mixture into the capsules and consequently get into the professional capsule business.
