A photograph of a man and a woman sitting at a bakery counter. The woman, with curly hair and wearing a yellow top, is smiling and holding a croissant. The man, wearing a checkered shirt, is also smiling and looking at her. On the counter are plates of croissants, a glass of orange juice, and a cup of coffee. In the background, there are shelves with more bread and a menu board.

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE MOMENT

Whether early in the morning or during lunch break, a visit to the bakery promises pleasure and enjoyment. An excellent coffee is part of it. Let's deliver on that promise together and treat your customers to great coffee moments. Operate your coffee machines with ease

Thanks to intuitive user interfaces, you, your staff and your customers can easily operate our A line coffee machines. They are also easy and quick to clean and maintain.

Increase sales with consistent in-cup-quality

Thanks to our iQFlow™ technology, you can define your signature taste while ensuring high in-cup quality. This way, your customers will experience outstanding coffee moments in your store time and time again - and will be happy to come back. Simply define and set your individual, consistent aroma profile and make it the calling card of all your stores.

Serve your customers efficiently

Let your employees focus on face-to-face interactions with customers, safe in the knowledge that your A line coffee machine is preparing the perfect cup of coffee in the meantime. Less time spent at the machine means more time for your customers.

Reduce changing costs

Our A line coffee machines are built on the same platform and share the same user interface and design. That's why you can mix and match our A line machine options and add-on units as you wish. This versatility is a core element of our design philosophy. It ensures that you have full freedom of choice and cost efficiency at the same time. Most of our coffee machines even share the same dimensions. You can smoothly set up additional machines or switch to another Franke model without spending a lot of time and money on adapting your interior or training your staff.

Work with a partner you can always rely on

We know running a business means you don't have time for coffee machines to let you down. Our Swiss-manufactured machines ensure reliability and operational efficiency. Don't worry about the coffee - it will always flow.

All you need to boost your coffee business: a smart machine.

Increase your potential with Franke Digital Services. Our end-to-end solution uses the Internet of Things (IoT) to improve the quality of your coffee, enhance your customers' experience and increase your profits.

Know more and keep everything under control

Connect your coffee machine fleet to our cloud and get access to critical commercial and operational performance data. Understand what's being sold and when, and make sure ingredients are always fresh and in stock.

Increase uptime

Reduce on-site visits thanks to remote monitoring and virtual support. Our technicians always know the health status of your machines. This enables them to prepare optimally for their next visit and to increase the first-time fix rate.

Maximize profits

Use the displays of your coffee machines as a communication channel. Leverage our digital signage solution and inform your customers about the variety of your beverage offering. This will increase your upselling potential, for example with seasonal beverage promotions, without on-site interaction.

Go further

We support you in the introduction of customer loyalty programs and mobile payments in your coffee business. This way you can offer your customers an even better experience.

At Franke, we know your customers' needs are constantly evolving. Thanks to our Digital Services, you'll always be ready for what's next.
