All you need to boost your coffee business: a smart machine.

Increase your potential with Franke Digital Services. Our end-to-end solution uses the Internet of Things (IoT) to improve the quality of your coffee, enhance your customers' experience and increase your profits.

Know more and keep everything under control

Connect your coffee machine fleet to our cloud and get access to critical commercial and operational performance data. Understand what's being sold and when, and make sure ingredients are always fresh and in stock.

Increase uptime

Reduce on-site visits thanks to remote monitoring and virtual support. Our technicians always know the health status of your coffee machines. This enables them to prepare optimally for their next visit and to increase the first-time fix rate.

Maximize profits

Use the displays of your coffee machines as a communication channel. Leverage our digital signage solution and inform your customers about the variety of your beverage offering. This will increase your upselling potential, for example with seasonal beverage promotions, without on-site interaction.

Go further

We support you in the introduction of customer loyalty programs and mobile payments in your coffee business. This way you can offer your customers an even better experience.

At Franke, we know your customers' needs are constantly evolving. Thanks to our Digital Services, you'll always be ready for what's next.
