Anyone who works hard needs breaks. With a good coffee.

Satisfied employees perform better. That's why you should make sure that your company's staff feel comfortable at the workplace. This includes a great, personal coffee experience. Therefore, offer your employees a selection of high-quality coffee drinks that can be prepared quickly and intuitively. Our innovative workplace solutions offer all the types of beverages your employees are looking for.

Our fully automatic coffee machines are capable of motivating your employees and impressing your visitors with barista-like coffee specialties. Choose Franke and you choose an exceptional coffee offering that contributes to more efficiency and higher employee satisfaction.

We share the same goal: a lasting partnership.

Quality work is the be-all and end-all in your business. Rely on our expertise and experience to provide your employees with the coffee enjoyment they want, even during the shortest breaks. Give them good reasons to choose your workplace coffee machine over neighborhood cafés. Our reliable and sustainable solutions are designed to be adapted to any location in your company - whether it's small coffee kitchens, cafeterias or meeting rooms.

Because happiness can also come in cups

Take away coffee options near the workplace may be growing in number - but we'll help you make your office the best choice in the area. Because no one knows better what coffee lovers want than we do. Your employees can expect consistently high in-cup quality, the coffee beverage that's just right for their tastes. And they can prepare their coffee quickly and easily thanks to the intuitive user interface of our machines. Give your employees a boost of motivation and make your coffee another good reason to work in your company.

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE MOMENT

At the workplace, a short coffee break can inspire new ideas and increase motivation. With Franke, you can easily create great coffee moments. Whether your employees simply start the day with a good cup of coffee or are true coffee lovers, we ensure that they can recharge their batteries during the coffee break between efficient work sessions.

A coffee can be the beginning when it comes to building bonds between employees or with business customers. Seize the opportunity and offer outstanding in-cup quality. Give your employees one more reason to stay in the office and make every meeting an opportunity for colleagues and partners to exchange ideas over a good coffee.

A highlight in the office: the coffee machine.

A coffee machine is a must in every office - make it a highlight. Our expertise and our advanced solutions help you offer your employees personalized coffee moments.

Easy to use, easy to clean

Thanks to unique and intuitive touch screens, our A line coffee machines are easy to use. So your employees can easily prepare barista-quality coffee. With our fully automatic CleanMaster, cleaning the machines is safe and hygienic. And your employees can concentrate on their work.

Improved efficiency – even during breaks

Make sure your employees can focus on their business responsibilities. Our A line machines give you the peace of mind that excellent coffee beverages are always available during breaks with just the touch of a button. Less time at the machine means more time for work.

Reduce changing costs

Our A line coffee machines are built on the same platform and share the same user interface and design. That's why you can mix and match our A line machine options and add-on units as you wish. This versatility is a core element of our design philosophy. It ensures that you have full freedom of choice and cost efficiency at the same time. Most of our coffee machines even share the same dimensions. You can easily set up additional machines or switch to another Franke model without your staff needing to reaccustom themselves to their operation.

Work with a partner you can always rely on

We know that you want to focus on your core business and that you don't have time for coffee machines to let you down. Our Swiss-manufactured machines ensure reliability and operational efficiency. Don't worry about the coffee – it will always flow.

A simple yet effective motivator: our coffee machines.

Find the coffee machine that perfectly fits your needs and enter a new world of coffee making.

Everything you need for a perfect coffee break: a smart machine.

Increase your potential with Franke Digital Services. Our end-to-end solution uses the Internet of Things (IoT) to improve the quality of your coffee, enhance your employees' experience and increase your efficiency.

Know more and keep everything under control

Connect your coffee machine fleet to our cloud and get access to critical operational performance data. Understand what is being consumed and when, and make sure ingredients are always fresh and in stock.

Reduce service costs

Reduce on-site visits thanks to remote monitoring and virtual support. Our technicians always know the health status of your coffee machines. This enables them to prepare optimally for their next visit and to increase the first-time fix rate.

Use our coffee machines as a communication channel

With Franke Digital Signage we have designed a simple but impactful opportunity for you to spread the word even during coffee breaks. Remotely update the touch screens of your machines with personalized, targeted messages as often as you like.

At Franke, we know your needs are constantly evolving. Thanks to our Digital Services, you'll always be ready for what's next.

One thing matters as much as serving coffee: serving you.

Choose Franke and you choose a partner you can rely on every step of your journey. We are always there for you so that you can always offer outstanding quality beverages to your employees.

Count on our customer service

Our machines are built to last. However, should you need assistance, our in-house service staff, our certified partners and our worldwide service network are ready to support you with any challenge.
